Missions and Faith Sharing

Cindy Robinson - The Abilene Reporter News has published a story about Cindy Robinson's decision to serve the rest of her life on the mission field of Zambia. The story can be found online and is also on the missions bulletin board here at Hillcrest.

News from Cleddy Varner, Caleb Callari, & Brian Davis

We just finished a Gospel meeting with one of our former church plants in the Inner City of Cape Town. We were able to visit the others and greeted many old friends! What a pleasure to hear the maturity in the teaching and wisdom of our former Bible study students.

One young man called at the last minute and said that he just had to meet with us. He was one of our youth group, and he wanted to introduce us to his wife and children. He is faithful and had taught his wife the Gospel. He is now raising his family in the Lord. He just wanted us to know and wanted to thank us for taking the time with him as a young person to share the Gospel with him.

We are now in Tanzania looking at a potential new mission site among the Maasai tribe. Lewis and Tammy Short are hosting us. Tammy is the daughter of John & Beth Reese with World Bible School and Lewis is the son of long time Asian missionaries, Edward and Sharon Short. They are wonderful hosts. More on Tanzania next time.
